Isaiah Udosen was the former vice president of the AC Nigerian Conference before accepting the position of President of the Conference in January 2015.

He is a native of Etinan LGA of Akwa Ibom State, and was interested in becoming involved in ministry at an early age.

After receiving his certificate in 1958, he began preaching the gospel in many local churches. Later he was appointed as Sunday school superintendent for 10 churches. In 1975, he was ordained a deacon, in 1980 an Elder, and became a minister in 1990.

Isaiah is blessed with seven children from his late wife, Arit.
